Visit The Ayui Foundation

Chiang Rai | Family, Philanthropy

Our destination is the Baan Mai community, where we visit the Ayui Foundation, established by Australian teacher Sumalee (Sue) Milne. Since 2007, the foundation has been dedicated to supporting disadvantaged Akha hill tribe teenagers, regardless of religion, by providing access to education, healthcare, food and a safe place to live. During our visit, we spend time at the girls' home in the Baan Mai community, where all the girls reside. Engage in meaningful conversations with the foundation's nanny. If the schedule aligns, the children may showcase their traditional Akha costumes and perform a traditional dance.

Why Interesting?

- Support education and well-being of Akha teenagers
- Meet the local community and hear their stories
- Make a meaningful contribution through donations

Notes

- Durations: Weekdays after 4:00 PM and on weekends from 9:00 AM to 6:00 PM.
